JEFF WERTMAN, PRESENTER, "DISPUTE RESOLUTION TOOLS AMID COVID-19," THE KNOWLEDGE GROUP

November 17, 2020

COVID-19 may delay judicial proceedings all over the world, but it cannot stall the emergence of new disputes. The proliferation of conflicts across industries can even increase given the economic disruptions resulting from the enforced lockdowns. With this current backdrop, litigation may not be the best way for parties to deal with conflict.

Fortunately, Alternative Dispute Resolution (ADR) mechanisms can offer tailor-made solutions to help solve disputes during the crisis. ADRs can be extremely useful tools when used properly.

In a LIVE Webcast, a panel of thought leaders and practitioners assembled by The Knowledge Group will offer an in-depth discussion of the dispute resolution tools that are expected to arise from the COVID-19 pandemic. Speakers will also provide key considerations that legal professionals should take to better resolve disputes in today's trying time.

Key topics include:

- Alternative Dispute Resolutions (ADRs): Options and Possibilities
- Impact of COVID-19 Dispute Resolution
- Key Considerations
- What an Efficient Dispute Resolution Agreement Looks Like
- Outlook
