BERGER SINGERMAN
FLORIDA'S BUSINESS LAW FIRM

HEALTHCARE

Healthcare is the biggest industry in the United States and continues to evolve in our ever-changing political, economic and technological climates. How healthcare entities and professionals adapt can make the difference in the day-to-day and long-term business outlook.

To address the myriad of issues facing the healthcare industry, Berger Singerman's multidisciplinary Healthcare Industry Practice Group incorporates experienced members from each of our four practice teams: Business, Finance and Tax; Government and Regulatory; Business Reorganization; and Dispute Resolution. The Group's experiences includes representation of healthcare providers, including hospitals, healthcare clinics, physicians, nursing homes, ambulatory surgical centers, hospices, home health agencies, medical staffing companies, rehabilitation facilities, DME providers and pharmaceutical/biotechnology companies. We also represent long term care living facilities, health insurance providers, managed care companies, and entities seeking advice under Florida's medical marijuana legislation.

The Group is well-versed in the following areas:

- Acquisitions, dissolutions and internal disputes of entities/partnerships including tax implications
- Ancillary services contracts
- Complex corporate transactions
- Corporate structure, ownership and governance
- Business licensing
- Professional licensing/disciplinary actions
- Healthcare licensure and certification
