Edward Baker is an associate on the firm's Business, Finance & Tax Team and Government and Regulatory Team, specializing in the firm's Real Estate Law and Land Use & Zoning practice, based in Miami. He concentrates his practice on (i) commercial real estate law, providing transactional counsel in commercial real estate matters, including representing developers, operators, lenders, borrowers, landlords and tenants; and (ii) zoning and land use law, representing developers and business owners before municipalities and counties in connection with applications for rezonings, conditional uses, platting and other related matters. Prior to joining Berger Singerman, Edward served as a real estate associate at Adler & Stachenfeld LLP (formerly Duval & Stachenfeld LLP) in New York City, where he serviced a wide roster of clients, from private and public real estate firms, family offices to joint venture groups, and private investors.

Edward attended Loyola University New Orleans where he earned his B.A. in Political Science and received his M.A. in Urban Policy and Administration from Brooklyn College and his J.D. from New York Law School.
