Marc Stephen Shuster, based in Miami, is a member of Berger Singerman's Executive Committee, former Team Manager for the Business, Finance, and Tax Team, and former Hiring Partner of the Firm.

His primary practice focuses on representing family offices (international and domestic), HNP, private equity funds, and syndicators in commercial real estate and corporate joint venture work relating to the structuring of business transactions. Marc spends considerable time handling family office matters and concers. He also has substantial experience in cross-border transactions, including marina development and hotels. Marc routinely assists his clients with sourcing and managing capital and deal flow. Marc also represents tech start-ups and internet companies.

Chambers & Partners USA: America's Leading Lawyers has consistently recognized Marc as "a great deal lawyer," "dynamic", and a "problem solver" who "really understands (his clients') business," and "how to structure deals," noting he has a "real gift of viewing the transaction and potential litigation through the lens of a business person." One client even stated: "The relationship with the client is everything to him, so he's available 24 hours a day, and he always reaches out to make sure we're okay. He sees us as a business partner, which we really appreciate."
