

HARRY P. TEICHMAN

Partner

Harry Teichman is a member of Berger Singerman's Business, Finance & Tax Team in Tampa. With more than 25 years of experience, Harry advises businesses, entrepreneurs, investors, and individuals on a broad range of tax, corporate, and estate planning matters. He counsels clients on the tax aspects of complex transactions, including energy-related and tax credit transactions, as well as business acquisitions, dispositions, and other strategic business initiatives.

Harry represents pass-through entities, real estate developers, startup ventures, not-for-profit organizations, franchisees, and closely held businesses across a variety of industries. He regularly advises clients on day-to-day tax and business matters, corporate structuring, succession planning, and wealth transfer strategies.

In addition to his transactional practice, Harry has extensive experience representing clients in tax controversies before the Internal Revenue Service, Florida taxing authorities, and state and federal courts. He also advises clients on partnership and corporate governance matters, franchising, employment agreements, leases, wills, and trusts.
